Initial project: Motor Catamaran over 40 meters long

Collaboration between Royal Falcon Fleet and Porsche Design Group

Singapore/Stuttgart. Porsche Design Group (Porsche Lizenz- und Handelsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG) and the Singapore-based yacht builder, Royal Falcon Fleet, have signed a design and marketing agreement. Under this agreement Porsche Design will design luxury catamarans and megayachts for Royal Falcon Fleet on an exclusive basis. Porsche Design will also develop a marketing concept for the yachts.

The initial collaborative project will be to design a motor catamaran, over 40 meters (135ft) in length, to be sold under the Royal Falcon Fleet brand. Porsche Design will design both the hull exterior and the interior of the mega yacht. Royal Falcon Fleet has engaged Kockums and Incat Crowther for the engineering and the naval architect of the project. Kockums is a subsidiary of ThyssenKrupp and is based in Sweden; it is renowned for its cutting-edge technology in the field of marine engineering. Incat Crowther is a naval architect based in Australia with decades of experience in the construction of large motor catamarans.
